There are several different ways to play Nassau. The most common way is to play for a dollar per hole. However, you can also play for more or less money, depending on your budget.

Skins

Skins is another popular golf betting game. It's a cumulative game where players bet on the outcome of each hole. The player with the lowest score on each hole wins the "skin" for that hole. The player with the most skins at the end of the round wins the game.

Skins can be played for any amount of money. However, the most common way to play is to play for a dollar per skin.

Wolf

Wolf is a team golf betting game. It's played with two teams of two players. The teams alternate hitting shots, and the team with the lowest score on each hole wins the bet.

Wolf can be played for any amount of money. However, the most common way to play is to play for a dollar per hole.

Bingo, Bango, Bongo

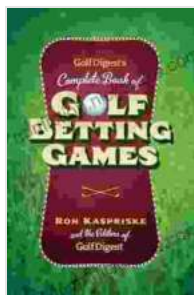

Bingo, Bango, Bongo is a fun and easy golf betting game. It's played with two or more players. The players take turns hitting shots, and the first player to hit their ball into the hole wins the bet.

Bingo, Bango, Bongo can be played for any amount of money. However, the most common way to play is to play for a dollar per hole.

Tips for Playing Golf Betting Games

* Always make sure you understand the rules of the game before you start playing. * Set a budget before you start playing and stick to it. * Don't bet more than you can afford to lose. * Have fun and enjoy the game!

Golf betting games can be a great way to add some extra excitement to your next round. Just be sure to play responsibly and have fun!
